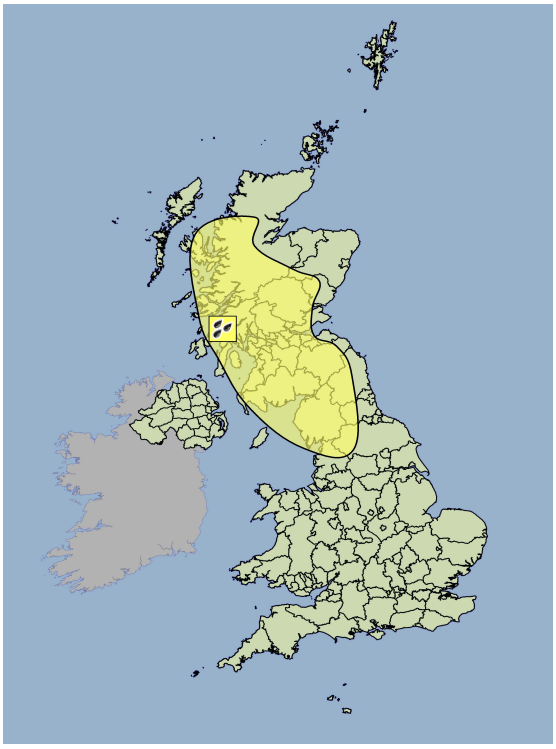
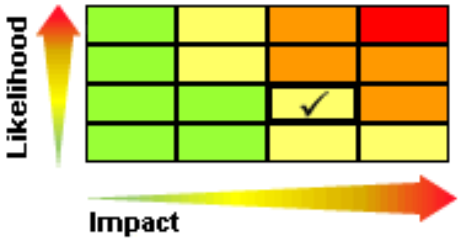
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A frontal zone will move slowly south through the warning area and will bring a lengthy spell of heavy rain and strong winds.

Rainfall totals of 40-60 mm are expected quite widely within the Yellow warning area, and with 80 mm or more possible over higher ground in the west. Please also see the separate Amber warning. This warning will be kept under review and updated if and when necessary.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 00:05 on Sat, 05th Dec 2015 until 09:00 on Sun, 06th Dec 2015

Outbreaks of rain will become persistent and heavy at times on Friday night and will last through Saturday, before clearing to the south early on Sunday. This is an update to slightly extend the area, allowing insertion of a separate Amber warning area.

Please be aware of the likelihood of flooding, exacerbated by the existing saturated conditions. Some medium level disruption, for example to travel, is possible.
